Organizational History:

The Savannah Pharmacy was started by the Lee Chemical Company, of Albany, GA, around 1907. In 1914, Dr. Walter E. Moody and Dr. Joseph Earl Fonvielle, a native of North Carolina and graduate of Howard University Pharmacy School, purchased the business from the Lee Chemical Company with the help of a loan from the Wage Earners Bank.

Doctors Moody and Fonvielle ran a very successful pharmacy business serving Savannah's African American community from the main branch at 719 West Broad Street (now Martin Luther King, Jr. Boulevard) and smaller stores on Fahm Street, Randolph Street, West Bay Street, and Augusta Avenue. Their compounded medicines, including a cure-all called "Yamacraw Chill Tonic" and the patented cold medicine "Long Ease," were highly sought after.

Following the death of Dr. Moody in 1942, the Fonvielle family assumed full control of the Pharmacy. Dr. J. Earl Fonvielle's wife, Lillian, and three children, William Earl Sr., Reginald and Frances, all helped out as clerks, managers, and pharmacists. From 1955 until her death in 1998, Frances Fonvielle served as president of the Pharmacy. She is considered an African American female pioneer in the pharmaceutical field.

During the early 1960s, Urban Renewal projects and the construction of Interstate 16 forced the clearing of the 600 and 700 blocks of the west side of West Broad Street. The Savannah Pharmacy, forced to relocate, closed its doors at 719 West Broad in 1963 in reopened in 1964 at 916 West Broad. The new $75,000 two-story office building, known as the Fonvielle Office Building, was built by Frances Fonvielle, designed by architect Eugene Allen Maxwell, constructed by local contractor Boise Goldwire, and financed by the North Carolina Mutual Insurance Company.

After its relocation in the 1960s, the Savannah Pharmacy suffered a slow-decline as a result of the desegregation of local businesses, emergence of national chain drug stores and discount stores, and the general decline of West Broad Street. Third-generation owner William Earl Fonvielle, Jr., known as Earl or "Bunk," kept the business open as long as he could, wanting to provide a community pharmacy.

At the time of its closing in 2007, the Savannah Pharmacy was the second oldest continuously-operating, black-owned business in Savannah (93 years), and the only black-owned pharmacy in the city. The City of Savannah purchased the Fonvielle Office Building in 2009. In 2011, renovation of the building into new offices for the Economic Development department began.

Conditions Governing Access:

Certain record series, identified above, have restrictions regarding public access due to legal restrictions on releasing personal medical information, Social Security numbers, and confidential tax information [O.C.G.A. 50-18-72(a)(20)(A); 50-18-72(a)(43)]. In addition, some series, or portions of series, have been closed for 75 years to protect the privacy of living individuals [O.C.G.A. 50-18-72(a)(13)]. Please see the individual Record Series restriction notes in the finding aid to determine access restrictions in place. These restrictions will be reviewed in 2032.

Conditions Governing Reproduction and Use:

Please read carefully the statement on copyright below. Permission to reproduce does not constitute permission to publish. Researchers who plan publication are asked to discuss this with the archivist first for written permission. While most of the City of Savannah, Research Library & Municipal Archives' collections are public records and in the public domain, not all are, and the Library & Archives may not be the owner of copyright for all its archival materials. Researchers are responsible for obtaining any necessary permission to publish from the holder of copyright. In the event that the Library & Archives becomes a source for publication, a copy of the publication is requested for the Library & Archives.

NOTICE: WARNING CONCERNING COPYRIGHT RESTRICTIONS

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve a violation of copyright law.

Processing Notes:

This collection was processed implementing minimal processing strategies, resulting in arrangement that should be considered roughly chronological or roughly alphabetical in some series and sub-series. Efforts have been made to identify all series which contain sensitive or restricted information, however because of the intermingling of records and the minimal processing strategy, some sensitive records may have been missed. Please inform the Archivist immediately if you run across sensitive medical information, financial information, or Social Security numbers.
