Local Business Spotlight: InkyBrittany

Brittany Curry has always had a knack for illustration and writing. From a young age, the Savannah native found joy in depicting her friends and teachers on sheets of notebook paper. Fast forward to 2012, Curry attended a workshop that introduced her to graphic recording. She learned how to document the key points of a discussion and translate those points into engaging images and sketches. Equipped with her colorful pens, markers, and pastels, Curry captures the spirit of an event by streamlining ideas in a memorable snapshot. Her budding success recording local events inspired the launch of her full-time business, InkyBrittany. With an impressive clientele including the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, Gulfstream, Georgia Ports Authority, and Visit Savannah, Curry has showcased her talents with myriad organizations throughout the Lowcountry and even nationally. As a result of her innovative work, she was honored as one of Georgia Trend's 40 Under 40.

Through The Creative Coast, Curry has been connected to a growing network of creative entrepreneurs in Savannah. In a recent blog post for The Creative Coast, Curry wrote, "Graphic recording is not about art, it's about communication. It's about deep listening and trying to express the information in quick visual 'memes' instead of paragraphs and pages."

Did you know that $0.68 from every dollar spent at a local business remains local, whereas only $0.43 from every dollar spent at a big box store stays local? That's a 25% increase in a boost to our local economy. The Small Business Chamber, Buy Local, and the City of Savannah have partnered together to bring the Shop Small Savannah campaign to our neighbors, for our neighbors. Join us in boosting our local economy by shopping at your neighborhood small business this holiday season.

Savannah's "Neighborhood Champions" and small business community have worked hard to make this holiday shopping experience fun. As part of the Shop Small campaign, there will be an exciting and family friendly scavenger hunt downtown. Shoppers can learn about local retailers, products, and receive additional discounts by participating. Every person who completes the scavenger hunt will be entered into a grand prize drawing. Shoppers can enter for chance to make their holiday season even grander.

Stop by one of the Shop Small information hubs to get a free shopping bag and learn how to maximize the fun, discounts and support this holiday shopping season. We currently have hubs in the following areas: Downtown/Broughton Street, River Street, Liberty Street, Habersham Village, Starland District, Southside, Wilmington Island, and a pop-up shop in the Ogeechee area.

The Shop Small Savannah website is your one stop shop for information on participating businesses, coupons, and FUN!
