Neighborhood History:

The Ardmore neighborhood was planned and developed starting in 1925 by William Lattimore and Harry Hays Lattimore. Its boundaries are East 51st Street on the north, East 55th Street on the south, Habersham Street on the west and Atlantic Street on the east. The neighborhood includes Hull Park. It is adjacent to the Ardsley Park and Chatham Crescent neighborhoods. The Ardmore neighborhood is part of Thorpe and Seabrook wards. Ardmore is included in the Ardsley Park Chatham Crescent Neighborhood Association, but it is not included in the Ardsley Park Chatham Crescent National Register of Historic Places Nomination.

Scope and Content:

Record Series 1121-064.02, History Round-up Days – Ardmore contains documents related to the planning of the October 2016 History Round-up Days event in conjunction with the Savannah College of Art and Design Historical Methods Class studying the neighborhood; digitized scans of photographs provided by Ardmore residents, and audiovisual recordings of oral history interviews conducted during the event. Digital images are available upon request.

In the event that the Municipal Archives becomes a source for publication, a copy of the publication is requested for the Municipal Archives.

NOTICE: WARNING CONCERNING COPYRIGHT RESTRICTIONS

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve a violation of copyright law.
