Extent/Size: 1 folder, 3 oversized folders, 1 compact disk (0.5 cubic feet, 1.04 GB storage)

Historical Note:

The Savannah Electric and Power Company headquarters was located at 600 East Bay Street Savannah, Georgia. It was built in the early 1960s and was described as “Mid-Century Modern” architecture. Permission was requested by Gunn, Meyerhoff and Shay architects to demolish the building to make way for new construction in 2015. As the building was over 50 years old, permission was initially denied. Upon further examination, asbestos was found throughout the building, to the extent that removal was not possible without destroying the integrity of the building. Approval for demolition was granted by the Metropolitan Planning Commission, conditional upon architectural documentation being submitted to the City of Savannah Municipal Archives.

Scope and Content:

Sub-series 1121-061.02 Savannah Electric and Power Company includes 7 original hand drawn colored architectural drawings of the building’s façade, 67 photocopies of plans, and 61 full size plans, and digital copies of all documents included in the collection.
