Building History:

The Thompkins Community Center was developed in 1934 as a recreational area for African Americans. It is located at 2333 Ogeechee Road in Savannah, Georgia, between Ogeechee Avenue and Kollock Street. The center had a swimming pool, bath house, pavilion, playgrounds, and tennis courts. It was renovated in 2013 by Kerns and Co., LLC. Prior to demolition required for renovations, the property was documented as a requirement of the Metropolitan Planning Commission.

Scope and Content:

*For additional plans see Sub-Series 1121-061.03

Sub-series 1121-061.01 Thompkins Community Center (1934-2013, no date) contains documents related to the 2013 renovation the Thompkins Community Center, built in 1934. The record subseries includes copies of two original As-Built plans, a copy of the 1934 blueprints, seven copies of blueprints from subsequent renovations, 34 photographs of the center in 2013, and digitized scans of all included physical documents.

System of Arrangement and Ordering:

The files are both physical and digital in format. The physical files are arranged by format in the order they were received.

Sub-series #: 1121-061.02
Name: Architectural Drawings and Plans - Savannah Electric and Power Company
Dates: 1962-1965
Extent/Size: 1 folder, 3 oversized folders, 1 compact disk (approx. 1.5 cubic feet, 143 MB storage)
Language: English

Historical Note:

The Savannah Electric and Power Company headquarters was located at 600 East Bay Street Savannah, Georgia. It was built in the early 1960s and was described as “Mid-Century Modern” architecture. Permission was requested by Gunn, Meyerhoff and Shay architects to demolish the building to make way for new construction in 2015. As the building was over 50 years old, permission was initially denied. Upon further examination, asbestos was found throughout the building, to the extent that removal was not possible without destroying the integrity of the building. Approval for demolition was granted by the Metropolitan Planning Commission, conditional upon architectural documentation being submitted to the City of Savannah Municipal Archives.

Scope and Content:

Sub-series 1121-061.02 Savannah Electric and Power Company includes 7 original hand drawn colored architectural drawings of the building’s façade, 67 photocopies of plans, and 61 full size plans, and digital copies of all documents included in the collection.

System of Arrangement and Ordering:

The files are both physical and digital in format. The digital files were arranged by Gunn, Meyerhoff and Shay. The physical files are arranged by format, in the order they were received.
