RESOURCE: Prismatic Glass

LOCATION: 51 Barnard Street

YEAR BUILT: c1903 (Date of Construction for Building)*

DRAWING REF: LE-102

ADDITIONAL INFO: Light well with square prismatic glass in dark purple hue. Originally clear, the hue comes from manganese that was infused with the glass to provide greater optics. Over time, the glass has chemically reacted with UV light and turned the glass purple, darkening the hue with age. The glass is set in a square concrete grid with a border. Border is interrupted by building wall, which was likely altered as the light well likely was associated with an entrance door. A large percentage of glass is missing. Where missing, there is concrete infill from different eras. More recent patches are particularly insensitive, white parging.
