AMERICAN Camellia CATALOG

ROUTE 2 BOX 335 • SAVANNAH, GEORGIA

Oct. 4, 1954

Dear Mrs. Spardrett:

Roote & Davis relayed to us your inquiry about our color plates. They are slightly larger than the size you mentioned - 8½ by 11. The special edition for framing is now available in quantities such as you describe (100 or more) at $1. each. The regular price is $2. There are 118 different plates and you can have a selection, to suit yourself.

If you wish I can send you an index of the pictures, or make a selection of those we find most attractive for framing.

Very cordially yours,

A. P. Erdman

Visit the quaint HERB HOUSE, situated in original Trustees' Garden, founded by General James Edward Oglethorpe, 1733. Thru this first experimental botanical garden in America were introduced all of early commercial varieties of peaches, grapes, and cotton, etc., to help make America great. Here silk worms fed on mulberry trees failed to produce an industry. Examples of colonial spices and rare herbs still grow in the miniature garden.
