Biographical History:

W. W. Law (1923-2002) was a prominent Civil Rights leader, local historian, historic preservationist and community leader in Savannah, Georgia.

Westley Wallace “W. W.” Law was born on January 1, 1923 in Savannah, Georgia, the oldest of three children of Geneva Wallace and Westley Law. He was greatly influenced by his mother, Geneva W. Law, grandmother, Lillie Belle Wallace, mentor, Reverend Ralph Mark Gilbert, and scoutmaster, John S. Delaware. Both Reverend Gilbert and John Delaware were officials in the Savannah chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). Law joined the NAACP Youth Council in high school and later served as its president. He attended Georgia State Industrial College (now Savannah State University) before being drafted into the U. S. Army during World War II. After he completed his military service, he finished his bachelor’s degree in biology. Law was a long-time boy scoutmaster for Troop 49 which was made up of boys from First Bryan Baptist Church, of which he was a member and Sunday school teacher. He was a mail carrier for the United States Postal Service for over forty years.

From 1950-1976 Law served as President of the Savannah chapter of the NAACP. During the 1960s, he led weekly mass meetings at Bolton Street Baptist Church and St. Philip A.M.E. Church during which he urged “passive resistance to segregation” and nonviolent protests. He was involved in efforts to desegregate Grayson Municipal Stadium, department store lunch counters on Broughton Street, and the beaches at Tybee Island. He led an eighteen-month boycott of Broughton Street merchants. Law is largely credited for helping to keep Savannah’s Civil Rights movement more peaceful than those in other southern cities. In 1961, he was fired from his postal job because of his Civil Rights activities, but reinstated after national NAACP leaders and President John F. Kennedy came to his defense.

After finishing his run as NAACP president, he focused his efforts on preserving Savannah African American History. He established the Savannah-Yamacraw Branch of the Association for the Study of Afro-American Life and History (ASALH), the King-Tisdell Cottage Museum, Beach Institute African American Cultural Center, the Ralph Mark Gilbert Civil Rights Museum, and the Negro Heritage Trail Tour. He also helped bring attention to and preserve Laurel Grove South Cemetery, the City's historically African American municipal cemetery.

Record Series 1121-100, W. W. Law photograph collection

Law received honorary doctorates from the Savannah College of Art & Design and Savannah State University. He was honored by the National Trust for Historic Preservation and the Georgia Trust for Historic Preservation for his preservation efforts in the community. W. W. Law died on July 28, 2002 at his home in Savannah. He willed his home and belongings to Remer K. Pendergraph who formed the W. W. Law Foundation to celebrate and continue the work of W. W. Law. The Foundation in turn donated his collections, documenting Savannah's civil rights movement, historic preservation, and African American history, to the City of Savannah for preservation and access to the public.

Conditions Governing Reproduction and Use:

Please read the following statement on copyright carefully. Permission to reproduce does not constitute permission to publish. Researchers who plan publication are asked to discuss this with the archivist first for written permission. While most of the Municipal Archives collections are public records and in the public domain, not all are, and the Municipal Archives may not be the owner of copyright for all its archival materials. Researchers are responsible for obtaining any necessary permission to publish from the holder of copyright. In the event that the Municipal Archives becomes a source for publication, a copy of the publication is requested for the Municipal Archives.

NOTICE: WARNING CONCERNING COPYRIGHT RESTRICTIONS

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve a violation of copyright law.

Digital Access:

The W. W. Law photograph collection has been partially digitized and is available electronically through the Municipal Archives Digital Image Catalog, available online at www.savannahga.gov/DigitalCollections. The online catalog is keyword searchable, allowing researchers to find identified individuals, groups, events, or places. Images that are reproductions from other institutions' holdings are not represented in the online collection, but are available in the Municipal Archives for research use.

Scope and Content:

Geneva Elizabeth Wallace Law (1900-1994) was born in Savannah, Georgia, to Lillie Belle Wallace and Frank Wallace. Geneva attended Maple Street, West Broad Street and Cuyler schools until she was one of the first classes to graduate from the Cuyler School in 1914. She married Westley Law, Sr., (1900-1903) in 1922 and they had three children together. Westley Wallace "W. W." Law, Jr. (1923-2002), Dorothy Law (1924-1975), and Tessie (Tessye) Law Sanders (1929-2007). The family were active members of the First Bryan Baptist Church and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) Savannah branch. Dorothy Law suffered from a long-term illness and died at the young age of fifty-one. Tessie Law married David Sanders in 1963; she lived and owned a business in New York City. Tessie and David had two sons and several grandchildren. Geneva Law was a major influence on her son, and the two lived together until her death in 1994. The Law family is buried in Laurel Grove Cemetery South in Savannah, Georgia.

Sub-series 1121-100.2, Geneva Wallace Law family photographs includes over 500 cataloged photographs and images of family and friends taken and collected by Geneva Wallace Law during her lifetime. The sub-series consists of five albums and loose photographs, which include: portraits of family and friends; candid images of individuals and groups at home, work, and vacation; and special events, such as weddings. Images that were part of albums were removed for preservation purposes with original organization of the creator maintained when possible. The remainder of the images were found loose, removed from album pages prior to acquisition by the Municipal Archives.

System of Arrangement & Ordering:

Sub-series 1121-100.2, Geneva Wallace Law family photographs is arranged by albums, followed by loose photographs.

Name: Greatheart Howard family photographs

Dates: circa 1890-1931, no date

Extent/Size: 1/2 document case (0.25 cubic feet)

Language: English

Scope and Content:

Reverend Patrick Wheeler Greatheart (1865-1926), an African Methodist Episcopal (AME) Reverend and teacher, was born in South Carolina and married Nancy Lay in 1892. Reverend Greatheart and Nancy Greatheart had two children, Lilliemae Greatheart (1895-1975) and Joseph Greatheart (1907-1939). The family lived in several cities in the South eventually settling in Atlanta, Georgia, where Reverend Greatheart became the Dean of the Theological Department of Morris Brown University and where both Lilliemae and Joseph graduated. Lilliemae worked at several colleges across the United States as an assistant and stenographer, including Howard University. Joseph settled in New York City where he married Rebecca White, had one child and worked as a porter. Nancy Greatheart passed away in Atlanta in 1925 and Reverend Greatheart passed away in 1926 in Charleston, South Carolina. Lilliemae Greatheart married Matthew Howard, Sr. (1884-1938) circa 1927 and they settled in Savannah, Georgia where they had three children together. The Greatheart family is buried in Americus, Georgia, and Savannah, Georgia.

Sub-series #:* 1121-100.7

Name:* Photograph print plates

Dates:* no date

Extent/Size:* 1 document case (0.5 cubic feet)

Language:* English

Scope and Content:

Sub-series 1121-100.7, Photograph print plates includes wooden and hard paper newspaper print plates. The plates are of different activities that were documented in local newspapers.

Using a method called halftone printing, newspaper print plates were used prior to digital printing to reproduce photographs in newspapers. A photograph was exposed on a prepared metal plate, which once processed, left a relief of various sized dots. The metal plate was fixed to a wooden block and could be used for multiple prints. Later, hard paper or plastic plates were created for one time use.

System of Arrangement & Ordering:

Sub-series 1121-100.7, Photograph print plates is arranged alphabetically by subject or topic. The print plates that have a corresponding image from sub-series 1121-100.1, W. W. Law photographs have been noted with the image number.
